Part III.—Activities and Operational Information

1 What are or will be the organization's sources of financial support? List in order of magnitude. If a portion of the receipts is or will be derived from the earnings of patents, copyrights, or other assets (excluding stock, bonds, etc.), identify such item as a separate source of receipt. Attach representative copies of solicitations for financial support.

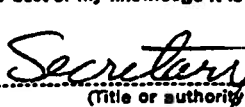

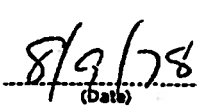

The sources of financial support for organization, in order of magnitude, will be the following:

- 1) contributions and bequests from alumni of the University of Maryland, and other individuals, organizations, corporations, and foundations
- 2) investment income.

2 Describe the organization's fund-raising program, both actual and planned, and explain to what extent it has been put into effect. (Include details of fund-raising activities such as selective mailings, formation of fund-raising committees, use of professional fund raisers, etc.)

Although no specific fund raising program has yet been developed, it is anticipated that the Foundation's fund raising program will parallel that of the Development Office of the University of Maryland. Eventually, it is anticipated that the Foundation will assume most, if not all, of the University's fund raising activities. As such, the Foundation's funds will come primarily from that segment of the general public that has an interest in supporting the University of Maryland. The Foundation has no present intention to use outside professional fund raisers.

I declare under the penalties of perjury that I am authorized to sign this application on behalf of the above organization and I have examined this application, including the accompanying statements, and to the best of my knowledge it is true, correct and complete.

- 3 Give a narrative description of the activities presently carried on by the organization, and those that will be carried on. If the organization is not fully operational, explain what stage of development its activities have reached, what further steps remain for the organization to become fully operational, and when such further steps will take place. The narrative should specifically identify the services performed or to be performed by the organization. (Do not state the purposes of the organization in general terms or repeat the language of the organizational documents.) If the organization is a school, hospital, or medical research organization, include sufficient information in your description to clearly show that the organization meets the definition of that particular activity that is contained in the instructions for Part VII-A.

The University of Maryland Foundation is not yet fully operational. The Foundation has, however, adopted bylaws and elected and designated officers and directors for the forthcoming year.

The activities of the University of Maryland Foundation will be to solicit and receive contributions, gifts, and grants from the general public (including individuals, organizations, corporations, and foundations) and hold, invest and administer those contributions and make expenditures to or for the benefit of the University of Maryland. The University of Maryland is a state college and is an instrumentality of the State of Maryland. (See, e.g., Treasury Regulation Section 1.170A-9(b)(2)(iii).) In addition, the University of Maryland qualifies as an educational organization described in IRC Section 170(b)(1)(A)(ii) in that it maintains a regular faculty and curriculum and normally has a regularly enrolled body of pupils or students in attendance at the place where its educational activities are regularly carried on. As such, contributions to the University of Maryland Foundation will be deductible pursuant to IRC Section 170(b)(1)(A)(iv). In addition, the University of Maryland Foundation will qualify for nonprivate foundation status by reason of IRC Section 509(a)(1) which incorporates by reference IRC Section 170(b)(1)(A)(iv).

The Foundation has been brought into existence solely to aid and assist the University of Maryland in developing greater private support and in receiving gift income and handling related management matters as set forth in its Articles of Incorporation.

Under existing University procedures, gifts must be deposited with the Treasurer of the State of Maryland, thus limiting the flexibility for investment and management. This also creates the impression among potential contributors that gifts to the University are, in actuality, gifts to the State of Maryland. This has deterred many necessary contributions to the University from the general public.

It is anticipated that all annual gift campaigns as well as capital and deferred gift solicitations for the University of Maryland will be handled by the Foundation.

The expenditures of the University of Maryland Foundation will include expenditures made for the normal functions of the University of Maryland such as the acquisition and maintenance of real property comprising part of the campus area, direction of or participation in the erection of University buildings, the acquisition and maintenance of equipment and furnishings used for or in conjunction with normal functions of the University or expenditures for scholarships, libraries, student loans, and other similar facets of University life.

See Article III, Section 5 and Article IV Section 1 of the Foundation's bylaws.

- 6 Is the organization financially accountable to any other organization? Yes No
If "Yes," please explain and identify the other organization. Include details concerning accountability or attach copies of reports if any have been rendered.

Although the Foundation is not financially accountable to the University of Maryland, its income will be utilized to support the activities of the University of Maryland. See answer to Part III, question 3 above.
